Question 4 (10 marks)

Read the passage and answer the questions given below. (Total 25 marks)

Wang Yung-ching, Taiwan's second richest person, is the founder of the Formosa Plastics Group. The group includes companies making everything from plastics to electronics. In many ways, the diverse group is like its founder. From a very early age, Wang looked for opportunities wherever he could find them. In doing so, he rose from poverty to become one of the world's most powerful businesspeople.

Wang was born near Taipei in 1917. One of eight brothers and sisters, he grew up poor, and his mother had to do farm work to support the family. When he was 15 years old, Wang moved to another city to sell rice. His talent for business quickly emerged. In a few short years, he went from selling rice to opening his own store to opening a rice factory. He won customers' loyalty by delivering rice to their homes.

Wang went from venture to venture, increasing his wealth and knowledge all along. He set up a brick factory, and then a wood processing factory. By the time he was 37, he had the largest savings account balance in Taiwan. Because of his successful track record, he was offered a chance to go into the PVC business. At the time, Wang knew nothing about plastics, but he saw another excellent opportunity and jumped at the chance.

Thus, the Formosa Plastics Corporation was born in 1954. Shortly after opening his first PVC factory, Wang founded a production company to make goods using his PVC. He then branched out into transportation (to move the goods), textiles, and numerous other areas. As he grew his empire into worldwide success, Wang's efforts became an important element in Taiwan's economic growth.

Wang Yung-ching has great skill at using what he has learned in one industry to get a foothold in related industries. Though his efforts have made him tremendously rich(ranked 178th in the world in 2008) he is well known for being frugal with money. (one of his sweaters has lasted more than 25 years!). This tireless businessman, who turned 91 in 2008, continues to impress the world.

i. What made Wang Yung-ching to become one of the world's most powerful businesspeople? ((2 marks)

ii. What do we learn about Wang's childhood? (2 marks)

iii. How did Wang win customers' loyalty at the rice factory? (2 marks)

iv. How did Wang expand his business from industry to industry? (3 marks)

v. How did Wang get the chance to go into the PVC business? (3 marks)

vi. What do you think are the secrets behind Wang's success? State 3 of them using your own words. (3marks)

vii. Construct grammatically correct meaningful sentences using following words. Do not copy sentences from the passage.

a) founder

b) worldwide
c) opportunity
d) grow
e) deliver
